

BRIDGING THE DIGITAL DIVIDE

February 2025

While many are celebrating February with chocolates and roses, we at Tri-Co Connections find ourselves reflecting on different sentiments. As we commemorate the milestones achieved over the past five years, we are thankful for our members who have trusted us from where we began to our current position. This progress compels us to express our gratitude to our incredible members, whose support has made all of this possible. In this newsletter, we look forward to sharing our accomplishments, celebrations, and the enjoyable moments we've experienced together.

Look what we can do together

Tri-Co Connections has dedicated five years to serving its members and the community. Here, we highlight some of the significant milestones we have achieved together during this time.

I Love Tri-Co
Connections!

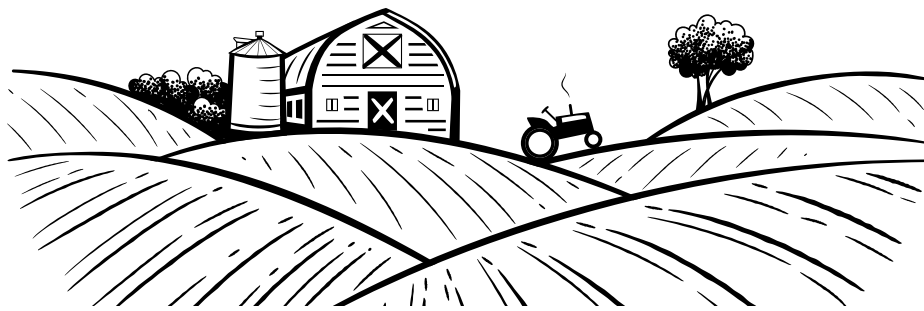

While focusing on “love” this month, we reached out to our members to ask why they love their high-speed internet connection. Here is what some of them had to say:

"Having Tri-Co Connections at our seasonal property has truly transformed our experience! We can monitor weather conditions through live streaming and enjoy the sight of the wildlife that frequents the area around the cabin. While we are there, my wife can continue to teach her trumpet students via Zoom, even accommodating those located overseas. The reliable Wi-Fi connection allows us to extend our time at the cabin. Thank you, Tri-Co!"

-Bob Campbell

“Farming comes with many challenges, but having access to high-speed internet has helped our farm work smarter. It has allowed us to use a cow manager program to track animal activity, run a technologically smoother business, start a small onsite and online farm store, and continue to use social media platforms to keep “Ag-vocating”. Thank you, Tri-Co Connections for helping Hoffman Family Farm bridge a gap in our farm, our herd, and our community!”

-Trish Adams

“Having a strong wi-fi connection lets me enjoy seeing my family even when they aren’t here. From video calls to digital frames that upload pictures, I am seeing them everyday and that is priceless! Tri-Co Connections has given me the connection to help me stay connected to the ones that I love most.”
